NATIONAL WORKSHOP ON MANUSCRIPT WRITING AND PEER REVIEW PROCESS

24 - 26
FEBRUARY, 2025

SILVER JUBILEE HALL, GRI (DTBU), GANDHIGRAM

About the Workshop

The scientific community thrives on the dissemination of knowledge through high-quality publications. Mastering the skills of manuscript writing and understanding the peer review process is essential for anyone seeking to contribute to their field and advance their academic career. This Five-day workshop is designed to equip participants with the necessary skills and strategies for writing and publishing high-quality research papers and navigating the peer review process effectively.

The workshop will combine lectures with hands-on activities to provide participants with practical experience in writing, structuring, and submitting manuscripts, as well as handling revisions and peer feedback.

Objectives

- To guide participants in the process of scientific manuscript preparation.
- To familiarize participants with journal submission guidelines and expectations.
- To introduce the principles and ethics of the peer review process

Expected Outcomes

By the end of the workshop, participants will:

- Understand the structure and style of a well-written research paper.
- Be familiar with the peer review process and how to respond to reviewer feedback.
- Be aware of common ethical issues in publishing and how to avoid them.
- Have the skills to critically evaluate and review manuscripts.

Target Participants

Research Scholars, Postgraduate students and other academicians interested in manuscript writing and the peer review process.
